ICC offers students a variety of advantages including extracurricular activities and caring environment.

ICC is known for the scholarships that it provides to enable students to earn an education in cases where it isn't always possible.

ICC's faculty members serve as advisers to ensure that their students are on the right academic or career path.

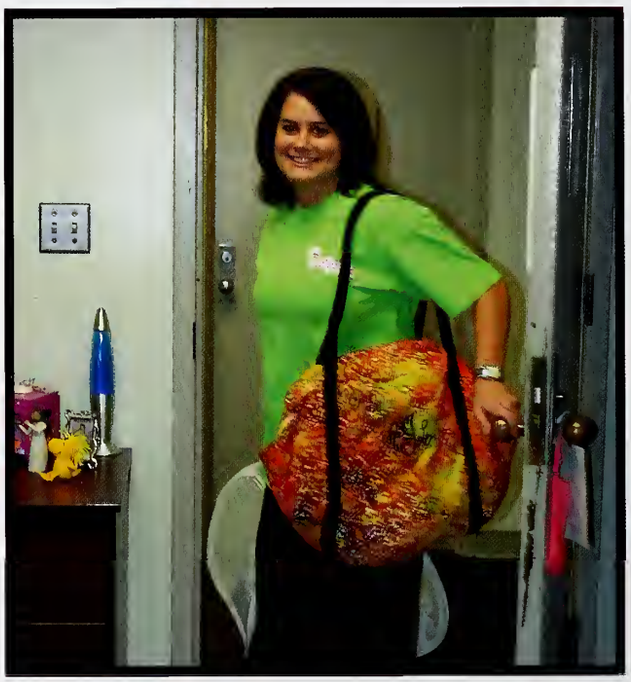
In the last year, the Fulton campus added the Davis Event Center and a fitness center.

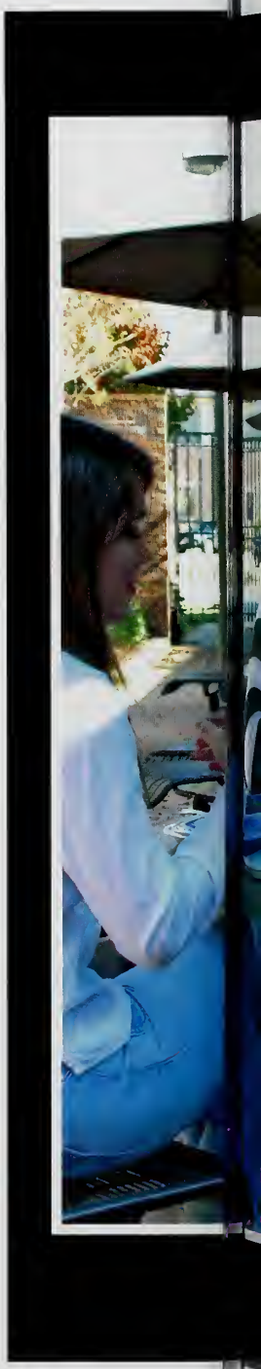
In addition, the Learning Resource Centers on both campuses provide areas for study and research.

ICC's career service centers in both Fulton and Tupelo offer an opportunity for career testing and guidance.

Real experiences.

Clockwise from top, Larry Boggs speaks to students during freshman orientation at the Fulton campus. Kasey Parker makes up her bed in her room. Dwight Witherspoon studies in the Learning Resource Center. Britney Hood and Chasity Ray review algebra homework. Hailey Shelton, Pete Sneed, Jamie Steele and Will Clingan spend an afternoon in the courtyard. Gregory Windom pays for his books in the ICC Bookstore. Audra Jones moves into Monroe Hall prior to the fall semester.





College life is a new and exciting time for students at Itawamba Community College.

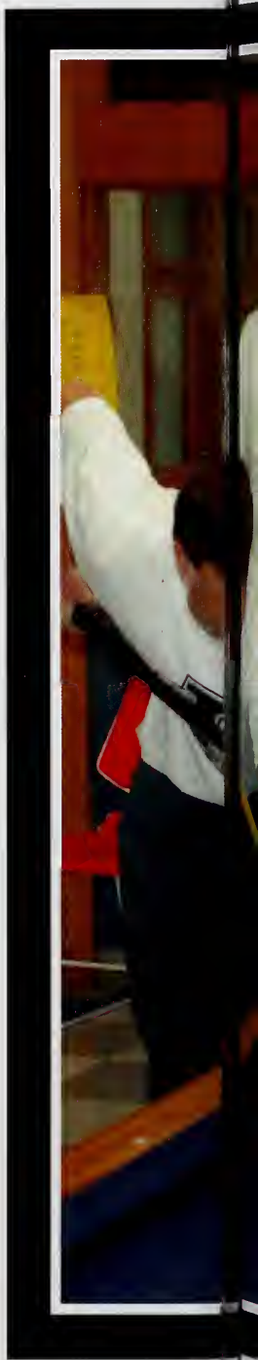
ICC offers experiences that will become a part of the fabric of students' lives. Students will remember when they moved in for the very first time, and even those long cram nights of studying for tests.

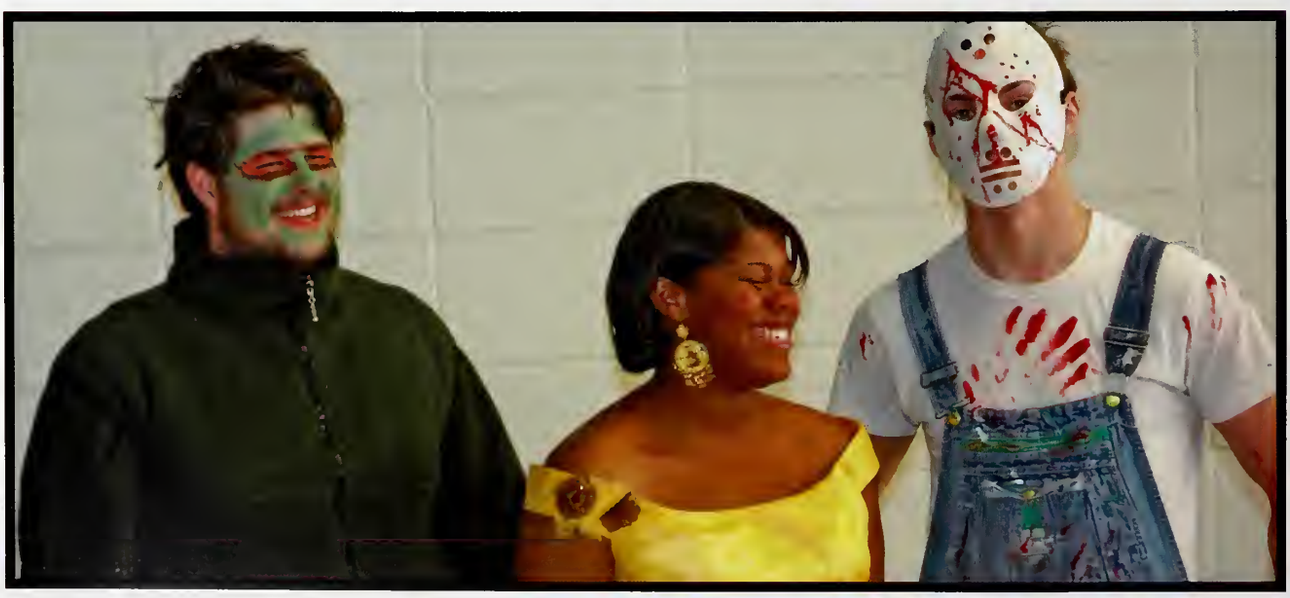
Orientation is the first experience for ICC freshmen. This is a time when they learn all about ICC, tour the campus, sign up for classes, get their picture made for I.D. cards and the yearbook. It is even a time to meet new people, make new friends and to prepare for the college experience.

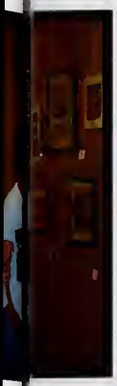
Other experiences include spending lazy lunches on the cafeteria patio and long book buy-back lines.

Real fun.

Clockwise, from top, Nick Doyle, Hillary Morgan, Seth Clark, Cory Lindsey study Laura Summerford's watercolors in the Fine Arts gallery. Misty Hope Roberts walks the runway at a fall fashion show. Charley Williams gets soaked in a water relay race. Deon Hampton plays ping pong in the Student Activities Center. Drew Edwards, Jeff White and Brock Hamilton shoot pool in the Student Activities Center. Chris Metler, Jamisha Evans and James Hollingsworth are announced as winners of the Halloween costume contest at the Tupelo campus. Blaine Walters serves popcorn at a tailgate party.







ICC offers activities for all students, no matter if they are traditional (just out of high school) or non-traditional (those who have returned to start a new chapter in their lives).

The student center offers a place to hang out and participate in such activities as pool, ping pong and watching TV.

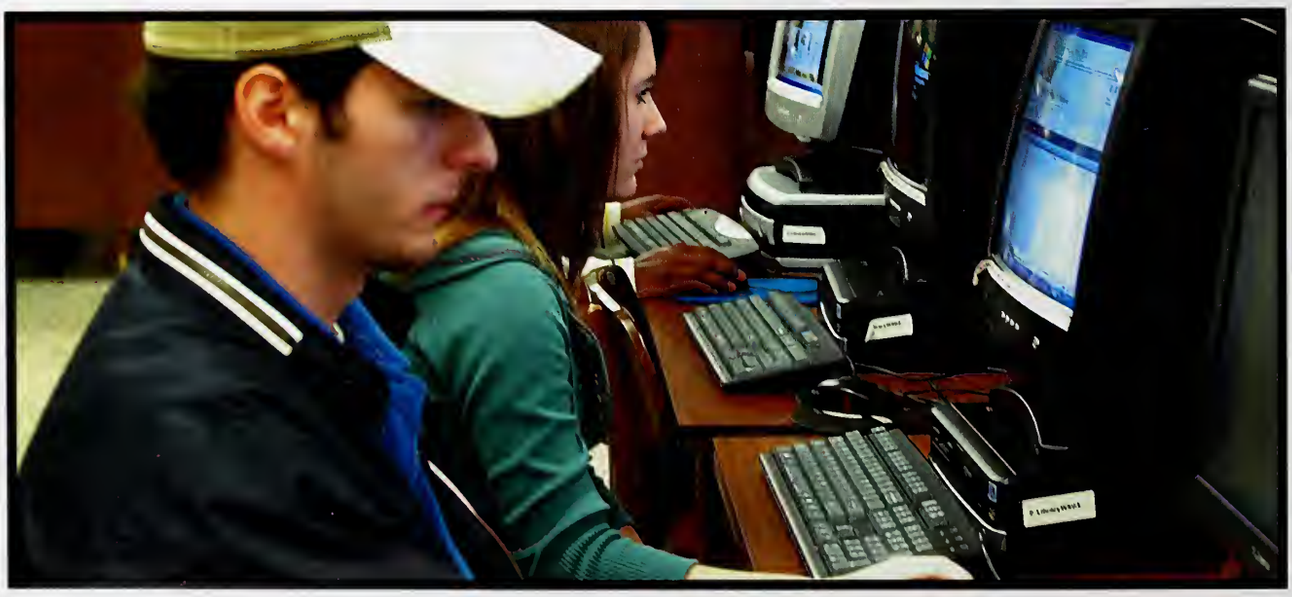
On Halloween, female resident students open their halls for trick or treating by area children 12 years of age and under. The BSU also hosts a costume party.

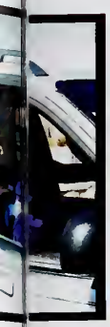
This year, ICC's non-traditional students and their families were treated to a tailgate party before the Mississippi Delta game.

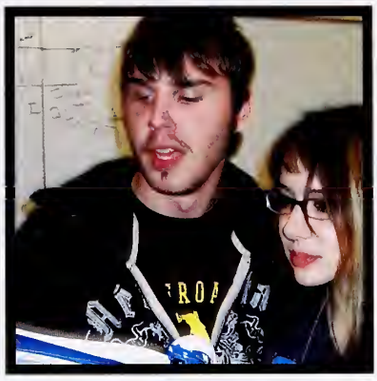
Additional activities included plays, club functions, and fashion tribe, music and art shows.

Real choices.

Clockwise, from top right, Kerry Orr, Mario Crump, Vincent Teague and Andrew Eddie carpool on their way to ICC. Larry Boggs assists Toni Gough with choosing an adviser. Chartis Ivy participates in color guard practice. Drew Stanford and Veronica Stallings run through their lines for the fall play, "Heaven Can Wait." Tyler Wade, Keauna King, Michelle Warner and Emmanuel Bolden give their best effort during CenterStage rehearsals. Jamal Daher and Anna Oswalt choose online classes in the Learning Resource Center. Quintin Grice rides his bicycle to class.







When entering college, students have many decisions including where to attend, to commute or to live on campus and which classes and instructors to select.

One of the biggest decisions is choosing a major. ICC offers advice and counseling to assist all students in the pursuit of a career. Advisers are assigned, and schedules are designed based on the student's choice of major.

ICC offers many choices including involvement, friendships and organization membership to ease the transition from high school or from a career to a new start.

Students elect Mr., Miss ICC

L.D. Gillespie of Pontotoc and Corie Stanford were selected as Mr. and Miss Itawamba Community College in an online election, January 16.

A 2005 graduate of South Pontotoc Attendance Center, Gillespie is a secondary education major with emphasis is mathematics. He plans to continue his education at Mississippi State University. Gillespie's ICC activities include baseball, football, Phi Theta Kappa, Mu Alpha Theta and Baptist Student Union. His honors are Who's Who Among American Junior Colleges, president's list and Hall of Fame. He is the son of Larry and Marilyn Gillespie.

Stanford is a 2005 graduate of Saltillo High School. A public relations major, she plans to attend Mississippi State University. Her activities at ICC include Student Government Association president, choir, chamber singers, diamond girl, CenterStage, Phi Theta Kappa, Indian Delegation and Modern Language Club. Stanford's honors are Who's Who Among American Junior Colleges, president's and dean's lists and homecoming freshman maid. As Miss ICC 2006, she finished in the top 10 at the Miss Mississippi pageant. She is the daughter of Gary and Felicia Stanford.

Stanford wins title

Corie Stanford of Saltillo won the Miss Itawamba Community College pageant, January 24, 2006, in the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Center auditorium at the Fulton campus.

By winning the title, Stanford represented ICC at the Miss Mississippi Pageant in July, where she finished in the top 10 and was a preliminary talent winner. She earned $3,000 in scholarship money.

Stanford is the daughter of Gary and Felicia Stanford.

"Being crowned Miss ICC was more than receiving a sparkling crown," Stanford said. "It was a wonderful experience in which I gained a treasure for life, a treasure full of precious memories, unforgettable experiences and a new family to last a lifetime. Being a part of the ICC family has been priceless and being Miss ICC has been an honor."

Miss ICC pageant alternates included Kimberly Perry of Tupelo, first, and Heidi Smith of Tupelo, second.

The other contestants were Amber Rolison of Kossuth, Haley Patillo of Tupelo, Miranda McLaughlin of Pontotoc and Andi Burrows of Mantachie.

Categories of competition included swimsuit, evening gown and poise, interview and talent.

Pep rallies set tone

Itawamba Community College's students had plenty to keep them occupied the week before Homecoming, October 16-21.

Monday, residence hall students and organizations began painting signs that emphasized the Wild, Wild West theme.

Fulton campus students had a cook-out at the Crane Pavilion. Other activities included a Texas Hold-em tournament and a hotdog eating contest.

The Tupelo campus students gathered at the pavilion for a pep rally at noon. In addition to the presentation of the court and a pep rally, Indian head football coach Jeff Terrill pumped up the crowd with a speech about Saturday's game.

On Friday, the Fulton campus students participated in a pep rally which featured a hamburger cookout, court presentation and sign judging.

Winners of the judging included residence halls — Lee, first; Monroe, second; Chickasaw, third; clubs/organizations — Modern Language, first; Student Government Association, second; Indian Delegation, third; and Tupelo campus — Indian Delegation, first; Student Government Association, second; and Computer Programming and Networking Association, third.

Activities add to special day

Homecoming 2006 on October 21 was a day full of activities at Itawamba Community College.

The 1975 football team and cheerleaders and other honored guests were treated to barbecue and all the trimmings at noon in the cafeteria.

Alumnus of the Year Rudolph Franks of Tupelo and Athletic Hall of Fame inductees Missy Farrar of Murfreesboro, TN and Robert and Helen Logan of Fulton were honored at a recognition ceremony in the Student Services Building at 1:15 p.m. The honorees were recognized again later at Lambert Stadium.

The ICC Indians and the Northwest Rangers kicked off their game at Lambert Stadium at 3 p.m.

Halftime activities included a special presentation by the All-American Band and presentation of the Homecoming court.

Clockwise, from top left, ICC Alumni Association president Rep. Bill Miles of Fulton presents a plaque to Missy Farrar, Athletic Hall of Fame inductee. Other inductees include Helen and Robert Logan. 50 compete for title

Approximately 50 contestants from both the Fulton and Tupelo campuses competed for the Most Beautiful crown at Itawamba Community College, October 24 .

Contestants included those who were selected by clubs and organizations or off-campus sponsors.

The master of ceremonies was Cy Williams, oral communication and theatre instructor at the Fulton campus.

The judges included Max Munn, Rhonda Greening and Mitzi Lane.

Other contestants who rounded out the top 20 were Corie Stanford, Natalie Carter, Emily Hurt, Lara Wilson, Misty Atkins, Khelsea Holoman, Janay Walker, Lydia Stegall, Toni Gough, Natalie Gilreath, Lindsey Collins, Lerissa Robbins, Courtni Jordan, Summer Jennings, Molly White, Heather Blann and Roshunda Pope.

Who's Who includes 55 ICC students

More than 70 students at Itawamba Community College were selected for inclusion in Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges for 2006-2007.

The who's who selections included outstanding campus leaders from both the Fulton and Tupelo campuses.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory included the names of the students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

They joined an elite group of students from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Outstanding students have been recognized in the annual directory since it was first published in 1966.

Rewards of learning

600 earn degrees in May ceremony

Approximately 600 Itawamba Community College students received Associate of Arts or Associate of Applied Science degrees or certificates during the annual commencement, May 12, at 7 p.m. at Lambert Stadium at the Fulton campus.

Graduation day was not only a time to reflect on recent success, but to say goodbye to friends, faculty and ICC's campus.

The day's activities began at 8 am. with a breakfast for graduates, followed by rehearsal at the field at 9:30 a.m.

The fifty-sixth annual commencement ceremony program included the invocation and welcome by Ashley Price and the benediction, by Janet Snider.

The gray-gowned graduates received their diplomas near the conclusion of the ceremony, and parents, faculty and friends had the opportunity to salute them with thunderous applause.

Benefits of achievement

Students who worked hard and excelled academically were recognized during the 2006 Honors Days at both the Fulton and the Tupelo campuses.

Both departmental and divisional awards were presented during the events, which were sponsored by Phi Theta Kappa and the ICC Honors Council.

Mississippi Economic Council executive director Blake Wilson challenged ICC's honor students at the Fulton campus to consider the opportunities that are available in the state at the April 12 ceremony in the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Center auditorium. "You have a unique secret weapon," Wilson said. "If you use it, you will move Mississippi up the ladder of success. Don't be afraid to look for opportunities. We have to hold on to our dreams in Mississippi, but focus on the challenges."

At the Tupelo campus Multi-Purpose Building, April 13, Larry Kirk, retired CEO of Hancock Fabrics, was the speaker. "Change is a given, and it will only accelerate from here. Change requires new learning."

Opportunity to unwind

Indian Week. . .a week to unwind and have fun before exams!

Students at both the Fulton and Tupelo campuses of Itawamba Community College participated in Indian Week activities just before final exams during the 2006 spring semester.

This year, as each year, students and faculty looked forward to the games and activities to unwind and act like a kid again.

Fulton campus events included a cartoonist, inflatable games, hamburger and hot dog lunches, laser tag, game shows, music and a blackjack auction throughout the week.

The Tupelo campus hosted live music, several games, karaoke contest and lunch.

Both campuses were on a mission to "find the Indian." Clues were posted around each campus, and a money prize was given to the winner.

Indian Week this year, participants said, was a time of fun, food, friends, laughter and great memories!

ICC cheer squad rocks the stands

16-member group keeps Indian spirit alive in football, basketball seasons

ICC's cheer squad members served as more than morale boosters for the football and basketball teams this year.

Also, they served as public relations persons who served as the host for the NCA cheer camp in July.

The squad practiced six to eight hours each week to prepare for home and away football games. Cheerleaders performed routines and cheers to pump up the crowd at the two pep rallies of the year as well as led cheers and the "chop" with ICC's All-American Band.

The cheer squad also performed at the home basketball games.

Got spirit?

Itawamba Community College's cheer squad is comprised of a 16-member coed squad.

The squad, led by Jason Gann and Mallory Parks, organized and led pep rallies for games such as those against rival Northeast and the Homecoming opponent, Northwest. They helped kick off each football and basketball game by performing a routine as well as halftime performances.

The cheerleaders began practicing hard and enduring long hours after tryouts to learn routines and perfect them.

They used these routines to inspire crowds and motivate players at the ballgames.

The ICC cheerleading squad spent countless hours practicing.

Cheerleaders include Jason Gann, Ashley Graham, Andy Johns, Drew McDonald, Mallory Maddox, Melanie Maddox, David Miller, Ashlee Parker, Mallory Parks, J.T. Pullen, Brittany Tubb, Kyle Weaver, Christin Whitaker, Zack Witcher, Samantha Wood and Blaine Walters.

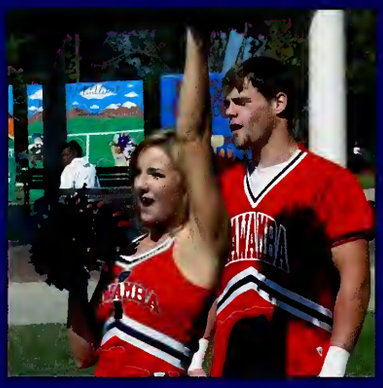
ICC dominates the courts



Preseason poll ranks Indians while IJC alumnus takes over the Lady Indians

Itawamba Community College is known for its talented basketball teams.

This year at ICC, the Indians were ranked twenty-third in the preseason poll.

The men were led by Coach Marty Cooper who has been at ICC for nine years. His assistants were his wife, Jennifer, and Brian Alexander, who also assists the Lady Indians.

ICC alumnus Nanci Gray left Tupelo High School and returned to her alma mater this year to coach the Lady Indians.

ICC not only hired a new head coach for the Lady Indians, but also opened its new arena, the Davis Event Center.

More than 2,000 fans showed up to support the players on January 11, opening night, and it proved to be one of the biggest events in the history of ICC.

The ICC men's and women's basketball teams dominated the courts this season, and both had winning records when the yearbook went to press in January.

Maximum determination

Before the season even began, Coach Nanci Gray said goodbye to her players at Tupelo High School, where she had coached for nine years, and took over the Lady Indians. Gray replaced Coach Carrie Ball-Williamson, who stepped down to be full-time athletic director and coordinator of the Davis Event Center. Brian Alexander served as assistant coach.

The season opener against Bevill State-Fayette, November 1 proved to be no problem in the Lady Indians' 72-67 win.

On November 15, Northwest Shoals came to Indian country for a matchup against the Lady Indians and left on the short end of a 71-59 score. Jasmine Larry scored 17 points and ripped down eight rebounds. Shameika Boyce and Keisha Shumpert added 13 and 10 respectively. Tacarra Harris had a game high of 10 boards.

On November 27, the Lady Indians traveled to Decatur and defeated East Central. Bronson Rodgers and Jasmine Larry each scored 17 while Shameika Boyce chipped in 12 in the triumph against the then 5-1 Lady Warriors.

On December 4 the Lady Indians beat Pearl River, 83-64, at Fulton.

The Lady Indians' victory over Holmes, 76-66, was the first in the $18 million Davis Event Center, which opened January 11.

On January 18, the Lady Indians defeated East Mississippi, 74-46.

With a 94-84 victory over Cleveland State on November 3 at the Marion Military Institute tournament, the Itawamba Community College Indians set the pace for a heart-stopping season. Top scorers were Larricus Brown, 26; Dell Coleman, 18; Anthony Brock, 17; and Greg Smith, 11.

On November 4, the Indians played in the championship and won, 86-62. Dell Coleman scored 30 points to win the tournament's most valuable player award.

The victories continued and led to the school's highest national ranking ever, ninth in the NJCAA weekly poll, December 5.

After a three-week holiday break, Larricus Brown scored a game high 18 points, including 7-7 at the free throw line in the victory against Bevill State-Jasper. Charles Johnson had a double-double with 12 points and 12 rebounds.

The Indians defeated rival Northeast at Booneville, January 8, 69-65.

On January 25, the men knocked off the Northwest Rangers' impresssive 31 game winning streak, 75-73 in Fulton.

When the yearbook went to press, the Indians had lost only three games.

Fall a season of firsts for teams

Football, soccer and baseball highlights include accomplishments, upsets and injuries.

Itawamba Community College's sports teams accomplished many firsts at the end of the fall.

The Indian football team started the season in August and ended it in November with a loss to Copiah-Lincoln in the semifinals and a 7-3 record. This was the first seven win season in a decade and the first time ICC made it to the playoffs three years in a row.

The men's soccer team ended the season with a 5-2 defeat of the Northwest Rangers and a 5-10-1 record.

The women's soccer team ended the season with a 4-10 record. Anna Patterson led the nation with an average of 11.3 saves per game.

The fall baseball season consisted of 10 games against other schools, numerous intrasquad scrimmages and a best of three steak and beans series. It was scheduled to be a best of seven series, but due to injuries within the pitching staff, Coach Rick Collier eliminated some of the games.

The men's and women's basketball teams began their season in early November and were still playing at press time.

Key to victory

Itawamba Community College's baseball coaches used the six weeks of fall practice to assess their players for the 2007 spring season.

According to head coach Rick Collier, that's a key to how well the Indians perform during the regular season.

Last spring's 2006 squad finished the season with a record 40 wins and 15 losses. "You can't win 40 or more games a year without busting it in the fall," Collier said. His team was the 2006 regional runner-up and north state champions.

"Coach (Chad) Case and I are constantly evaluating our guys and there were some positions to be won or lost this time of year," said Collier, whose 2007 season opened at Bevill-State in Fayette, Feb. 10. "We lost a lot of key personnel to either four-year schools or to pro baseball. But some of our younger players really stepped up from our recruiting class this past year."

Collier's fall roster consisted of 19 freshmen and nine sophomores. "We're expecting big things out of our sophomores," he said. "Nick Wheeler and Noah Sanders knocked the cover off of the ball this fall," he said.

Hard fight

The 2006 Itawamba Community College men's soccer team came up a little short with a 5-10-1 record and a fourth place finish in their division.

Sophomores Randy Earnest, Billy Harkins, Gerry Logan, Melton Field, Harris Faucette, Tommy Pharr, Walt Stewart, Morgan Weatherford, Greg White and Kyle Stricklen played their final games for the Indians, and Coach Mike Sullivan said he couldn't have asked for a better sophomore class.

The Indians also lost six players due to injury, which played a major role in the outcome of the season.

Freshman Dylan McCord of Tupelo led the state in scoring, and his 16 goals equaled the record in one season at ICC.

The men started the season with a win against the East Central Community College Warriors and ended it with a 5-2 defeat of the Northwest Rangers.

"These young men fought hard every game, and I couldn't be prouder of a team more than this one," Sullivan said. "It would have been real easy to get frustrated and stop playing hard, but they never did that."

Pride shows

Itawamba Community College's women's soccer team started the season with a win against Jones County Junior College, 2-0.

ICC also was victorious in its second game of the year against East Central, 4-2. The ladies scored all four goals in less than 15 minutes midway through the second half.

The women, though, ended the season with a record of 4 wins and 10 losses.

Coach Mary Robin Coggin said that she was very proud of her team this year.

In the game against East Mississippi Community College in Scooba, Anna Merritt Roberts had a hat trick for the Lady Indians. In their first game against East Mississippi, which was played in Tupelo, the Lady Indians fell behind early, but they rolled to a win as Amanda Wesson returned to her hometown to score a career best four goals. Roberts, who is also from Tupelo, added two goals in the victory.

The Lady Indians lost to Northwest in their season finale, 5-1.

Players earn post-season honors

Spring teams experience winning seasons in baseball, tennis and softball

During the 2006 spring season, most of ICC's teams experienced winning records.

The baseball team ended its season with a 40-15 record. Those who earned post-season honors included Josh Graham, Jeff Schafer and Jared Wesson, first team all-state. Graham and Schafer also made the first team all-Region 23 squad. Scott Deloach was named Mississippi and Region 23 defensive player of the year.

The men's tennis team finished 13th in the country with four players making the finals of the consolation bracket.

Spring fever

"Springing" into action in 2006 had a whole new meaning when it comes to Indian baseball.

The Red and Blue started the season with nine sophomores and 19 freshmen. The Indians won the north state championship and claimed the runner-up title at the Region 23 tournament. They finished the season with a 40-15 record.

Notable post season honors include: Josh Graham led the state in home runs (15), RBI (67) and was named to first-team, all-Region 23 and first team all-state. Jeff Schafer pitched five complete games, had three shutouts and was named to first-team, all-state, all-region. Jared Wesson ranked among the nation's top 10 in strikeouts to innings pitched ratio and was named to first team, all-state. Scott Deloach was named Mississippi/Region 23 defensive player of the year and second team all-state. Caleb Kidd, Clay Weatherford and Lee Wallace were named to the all-state second team.

Four players make All-State squad

Lady Indians wrap up one of most successful seasons in ICC history

During the 2006 softball season, four of Coach Mary Robin Coggin's crew played their way onto the All-State squad.

Leading hitter Brandy Raby and pitcher Laura Atkinson were selected to join the first team. On the second team were Cassie Tipton and Cassie Bailey.

The achievements continued for the Lad Indians. Seven players were named to the all-division squad. First team participants included Raby, Atkinson and Bailey. Farrer Young, Cassie Tipton, Katie Mink and Lana Atkinson were placed on the second team.

The Lady Indians claimed third place in the North Division competition and went or to wrap up one of the most successful soft ball seasons at Itawamba Community College with a 19-7 record.

The team celebrated its season with an awards banquet at the Olive Garden.

Time to shine

Several members of the Lady Indian softball team ended the 2006 season with recognition at the annual awards banquet, which was at Olive Garden in Tupelo, May 9.

Both Cassie Tipton and Laura Atkinson were named co-most valuable players for the Lady Indians for their play during the season.

Brandy Raby was the pick for the team's best offensive player of the year, while Cassie Bailey claimed the title of best defensive player. Due to their leadership abilities, Bailey and Raby were also designated as team captains.

Katie Mink was named the Lady Indians' most improved player for her batting average, which improved tremendously during the second half of the season.

Tennis teams can't be stopped

Indians, Lady Indians make major racquet; men finish season ranked 13th nationally

ICC wrapped up one of its most successful seasons ever in tennis. The men finished 13th in the country at the national event in Texas.

"I've been coaching men's tennis at Itawamba since 1972," said ICC head coach Paul Johnson. "My teams have made it to national tourney eight times but I have never had a squad achieve this much on this type of stage." Derek Klipstien, Matt Whiteside and Charley Busby all left the Lone Star State with titles. This was the sixth consecutive year that Johnson has led the men's team to the national tournament.

The previous week in Tucson, Ariz., the Lady Indians garnered a number 12 position in the final team standings, despite not having its number one player available to compete. Lindsey Collins and Krystle Ozols did win the consolation number one doubles championship for ICC.

The Lady Indians also tied Meridian at the state and Region 23 tournaments. The men won all nine events in the final round enroute to a clean sweep of the state and Region 23 championships in Meridian.

Ladies rock

"This past season was full of celebration and disappointment," said Itawamba's head coach Paul Johnson.

Even with a few medical problems with key players, the 2006 ICC women's tennis team had an amazing year as evidenced by its doubles team which ranked third best in the nation.

The Lady Indians took 12th position in the final team standings in Tucson, Arizona and tied with Meridian with 31 points each at the state and Region 23 events in Tupelo. "We were obviously elated on how we did at nationals, but we wondered what we could have done if we were all healthy," Johnson said.

Johnson signed two outstanding high school seniors, Haley Hugggins of Corinth and Paula Sims of Pontotoc, to boost the 2007 squad. "Combine those two with what we have coming back, and it should be another exciting year for the Lady Indians."

Clean sweep

"The guys really showed out at nationals," said Paul Johnson, ICC men's head coach, of the 2006 tennis season. "Four of our players made the finals of the consolation bracket, and that is not an easy assignment against those folks out there."

Derek Klipstein of Eupora won the consolation number six singles championship, while Pontotoc's doubles duo of Matt Whiteside and Charley Busby captured the consolation number three double title at nationals.

Another highlight of the season was the Indians' clean sweep of the Mississippi and Region 23 tennis championship in Meridian. The men won all nine events in the final round.

"That will be tough to top next year," said Johnson. "We've got a good bunch coming in that has tremendous potential, and I think they'll benefit from playing with the guys we have coming back."

Itawamba Community College golf coach David Rather said goodbye to five of his sophomores, but welcomed 10 freshmen to his 2006 team.

Team leader freshman Chad Darby was the only member to make the all-tournament team.

"I had a great group of kids," Rather said. "I enjoyed working with them, and I am looking forward to working with them next year."

ICC's Indian golfers participated in tournaments held at Eagle Ridge (Hinds), Wolf Hollow (Copiah-Lincoln), Lake Caroline (Holmes), Northwood (Meridian), Forest (East Central), Riverbirch (Itawamba), Mallard Point (Northwest), Pinebelt (Jones) and the MACJC state and Region 23 (Hillandale). The season began February 24 and ended April 23.

INTERNATIONAL MODERN LANGUAGE

The International Club and the Modern Language Club are organizations that provide their members an opportunity to understand other cultures and languages.

The International Club gave students this year an opportunity to learn about the world around them. The main goal and purpose each year is to help ICC's international students and the American students to become acquainted and to understand each other's language and culture. Members of the group attended the Florence, AL Renaissance Fair. The group met often in the Humanities Building to discuss the plans for the year. Ric Chandler was sponsor.

ART LEAGUE PROJECTIONS SIGN LANGUAGE

Projections, the Art League and the Sign Language Club allowed ICC's students to show their creativity this year.

Projections, which was sponsored by Dr. Ken Bishop, included 12 members. The group hosted the MCCCWA workshop and participated in the writing competition. They met the last Monday of every month during C period.

The Art League, sponsored by Tom Douglas and Robert Ring, worked to raise money for the Chris Hayden Art Scholarship fund.

BSU WESLEY FCA

Many resident and commuter students joined religious organizations this year including Wesley Foundation, the Baptist Student Union and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

FCA supported all of ICC's athletes this year with an opportunity to attend faith-based meetings each Wednesday night. Women's basketball coach Nanci Gray sponsored the group.

The Wesley Foundation hosted fellowship meetings and prayer breakfasts. They also participated in campouts, church visits and led worship services. Members also attended a statewide Wesley retreat in January.

CHIEFTAIN

This year ICC's Chieftain staff worked hard to provide news to students, faculty and staff.

Under the direction of editors Bethany Poppelreiter and Brit Martinez, the staff wrote at least one story for every edition. In addition, sports editor Jonathan Wise provided the latest news about ICC athletics.

The staffers were required to check in twice each week and to complete their assignments 10 days before the newspaper hit the stands. Members selected their stories from a list each month.

The advising team included Donna Thomas, assistant Kim Wiygul Williams and Connie Yielding.

The Brass Ensemble includes Travis Hall, Ted Watson, Adam Davenport and Alonzo Myatt.

ENSEMBLES

ICC's musical groups include Jazz Band and other ensembles such as Brass, Woodwinds and Percussion.

Each ensemble prepares pieces suitable for the individual instruments in that group. They performed in several concerts at ICC during the year.

The Jazz Band performed at the Christmas Gala and a spring concert. The Percussion Ensemble traveled to Mississippi Day of Percussion at Jackson State University.

Jonathan Elzie, Pol Steiner, Jessica Waldron and Shanna Haynes play their saxophones during the Christman Gala.

The Jazz Band performed songs such as "Don't Get Around Much Anymore" and "Corcovado" which featured spotlighted soloists.

The Brass Ensemble includes trombones, tubas and French horns. Woodwinds feature clarinets, bass clarinets, flutes and saxophones. The Percussion Ensemble spotlights snare drums, bass drums, mallets and cymbals.

Cole is visionary

Dr. David C. Cole is much more than just a community college president. He has been a visionary for Itawamba Community College since 1993, when he replaced Dr. W.O. Benjamin.

Expansion in the areas of leadership and community are extremely important for ICC's fourth president.

"Helping students realize the American dream for their lives," Cole said is the most rewarding aspect of his job. "Our job is to help students to be prepared to be successful in life."

A leader and friend to students and staff, Cole sees ICC building for the future.

In the past few years, the Student Services Building, Boggs Humanities Building, Davis Event Center and Fitness Center on the Fulton campus, and the Advanced Education Center on the Tupelo campus are evidence of Cole's goals for the future.

Cole attributes ICC's growth to a team effort. "We are striving for excellence and academics and building partnerships for training and development," he said. "ICC is concentrating on the multi-dimensional role of the community college education in the (ICC) district."

This year, president Cole was elected chairman of the state Community and Junior College Presidents organization, and as part of his duties, worked vigorously for better funding for community colleges statewide including funds for capital improvement and midpoint faculty salaries and improvement of the dropout rate.

Cole said he will continue to keep students the priority and move the college from "better to the best start here."

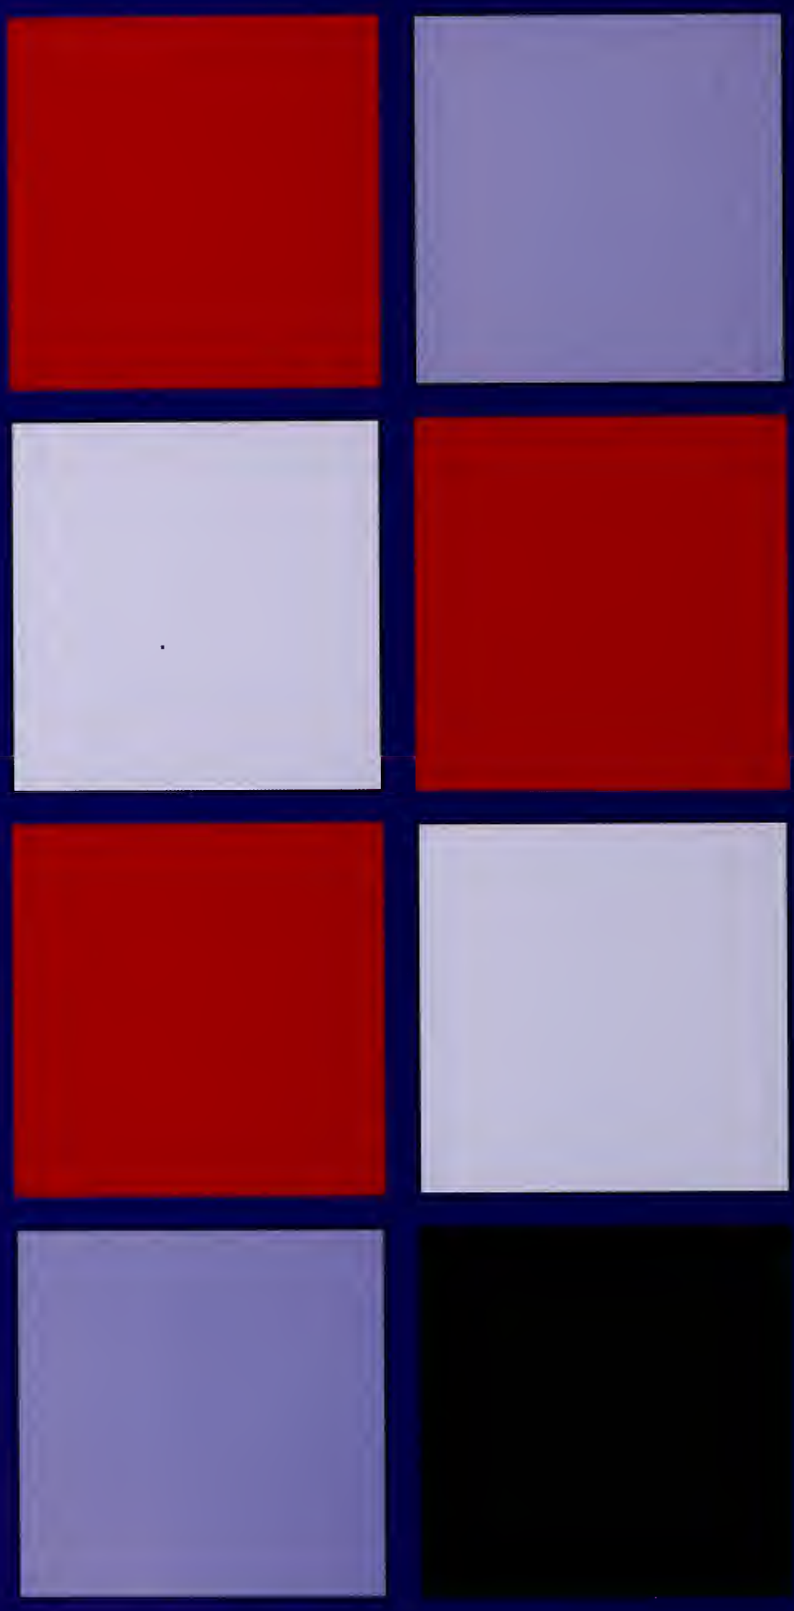
Small classes with big purpose



Students have opportunity to express their opinions

Itawamba Community College is a family home away from home. The atmosphere provides the ultimate college experience, while maintaining a small community life.

People are the main objective at ICC. Whether they work, play or just attend everyday classes, these people make ICC the grea success it is today. The faculty at ICC plays a significant role in educating America's future leaders.

ICC offers a variety of classes and programs in a small class population setting. This type of learning environment provides a one-on-one situation for the student body.

Small classes offer such advantages as more opportunity for student expression of opinion, more personal involvement with facu ty, more indepth discussions and concentration on individual needs.

Students at ICC are given the tools needed for success at a senior college.

While attending ICC, students have the chance to realize that a college career is the best part of life. Just like there is power in numbers, there is also power in knowledge. No matter race, religion, age, traditional or non-traditional, ICC is the place to find a real family, real college and a real future.

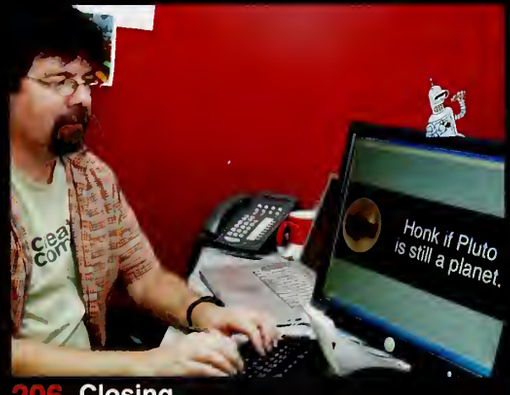
FITNESS CENTER
EVENT CENTER

Real news.

2006

Year in

National and



Review
Campus News

2006-2007 was full not only of state and national headlines, but also newsworthy events at Itawamba Community College.

ICC's Fitness Center opened October 30, and the long-awaited arena for basketball, the $18 million Davis Event Center, opened its doors for Lady Indians and Indians basketball, January 11.

The year also featured awards and accomplishments including the presentation of the Mississippi Humanities Teacher award to Ann Arnold, English instructor at the Tupelo campus, the donation of the $10,000 Mississippi Manufacturers Association's chairman's award by Bob Baughn and the gigantic $19 million grant to the Mississippi Corridor Consortium to assist in easing the nursing shortage. In addition, pre-nursing topped the last of majors for the fall.

Several national news headlines topped the list as well. E.coli was found in spinach shipments. Gas prices skyrocketed to almost $3 per gallon locally. For the fifth year, the United States continued to retain troops in Iraq, and as a result, security alerts remained high at airports across the nation.

The biggest news of the year was the execution of Saddam Hussein. The Muslim leader was executed in December 2006.

In other news, Pluto was reevaluated and its status dropped from planet to star.

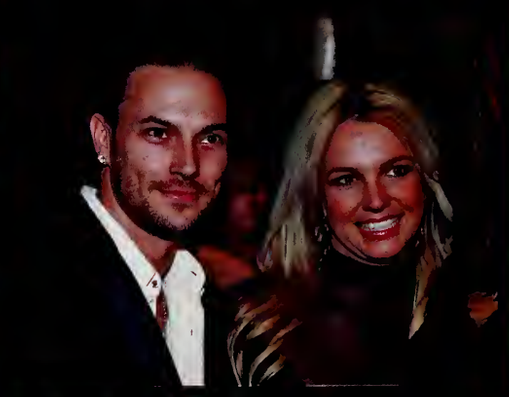
Katie Couric left the "Today" Show to work for CBS Evening News.

Nancy Pelosi was the first female ever to be elected as Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives.

2006

Year in

Sports and



Review
Entertainment

Sports has always been a huge part of life at Itawamba Community College.

Ranked 16th in the nation, the Indians made the football playoffs.

In professional sports, the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Detroit Tigers in the 2006 World Series in October. The New Orleans Saints finished their season one win shy of the Super Bowl. In NASCAR, Jimmie Johnson became a champion in the Rolex 24 at Daytona International Speedway.

In entertainment, one of the year's tragedies was the death of "Crocodile Hunter" Steve Irwin, who was killed by a sting ray.

Many family films made it to the box office including "Pirates of the Caribbean: Dead Man's Chest" starring Johnny Depp and "Cars" featuring the voice of Owen Wilson.

In the pop star world, Britney Spears and Kevin Federline split.

Also in entertainment, Playstation 3 hit the shelves. People waited in line all night for the new game.

In television, "Deal or No Deal" became a big hit.

Several controversies hit the fashion world. Some modeling agencies requested that models were to gain weight or have their jobs terminated.

2006 offered many opportunities for sports and entertainment headlines.

Colophon

In February, the final pages of the Mirror were sent to Multi-Media Technology in Poplarville to forward to the printing plant in Hong Kong, China.

The 2,000 copies were printed and shipped by boat to the United States to be trucked to the Fulton campus.

John Trotter, sales representative, assisted with production of the 9"x12" book, which was printed on gloss 105 paper with GL binding. The cover was done in ICC red and litho-coate.

Photographs were taken by Kim Wiygul Williams. A special thanks goes to adviser Donna Thomas and Connie Yielding for proofreading and assisting with every page, and to Will Kollmeyer for sports articles.

Additional appreciation goes to the Haynes, the Cranes and the Aycocks for the use of their homes for feature pictures. Special thanks to all of the staff members who corrected and completed their pages on time.

"Real College. Real Family. Real Future." was the theme for the book because it was Itawamba Community College's marketing campaign for this year.

We hope that this book will be an addition to your memories of ICC.
